NATIONAL CONSERVATION AREA

RECREATION

- The Playa has attracted diverse forms of recreation. These include: art festivals, backcountry horseback riding, backpacking, ballooning, California National Historic Trail touring, car camping, hang gliding, hot springs bathing, land sailing, no limits golfing, off highway vehicle use, photography, wildlife watching and supersonic land speed record attempts.
- Driving on the playa is an amazing experience - it's so smooth and one has the feeling of being in a boat on a lake with no waves or resistance.
- Watchable wildlife includes antelope and wild horses and burros, which may be seen along playa edge areas. A herd of burros is sometimes seen along High or Jungo Roads which borders the southeast playa edge. A healthy population of about 100 bighorn sheep occupy the Calico Range on the playa's northern viewshed.
- Events like Burning Man attract tens of thousands of tourists each year.
- Three Historic Emigrant Trail segments pass over or along the edge of the Playa. The landscape remains primitive and is similar to what the emigrants would have seen.
